THE SPRING SAILING.

Leaders of Lunenburg Bank Fleet Started Monday.

Special Services For Fishermen at Churches Before Departure.

The first fishing schooners of the great Lunenburg, N. S., fleet sailed for the banks Monday on the early spring trip, and the water front was gay with bunting in their honor. The vessels to get away were schs. Lila B. Hirtle, Alexandria, Glenwood, Alma Nelson, Shamrock, and Acadia.

When these splendid vessels, the crack ones of the Lunenburg fleet, sailed from the harbor, they presented a fine sight. The weather was perfect, and the departure of these precursors of the famous Lunenburg fleet was marked with every prospect of success. With every stitch of canvas drawing, the vessels raced away, as though off for an ocean race.

In fact, this is quite true, as there is much friendly rivalry among the skippers and men, and each is determined to reach the grounds first. All these vessels baited with frozen herring from the Atlantic Fish Company's freezer.

Special sermons were delivered in the churches Sunday for the benefit of the departing fishermen. Schs. Transvaal, Ronald G. Smith, Juanita, Henry L. Montague, and Hiawatha belonging to W. G. Smith & Co., have been cleared at the custom house. Some of these sailed Monday night.

PLENTY OF FISH.

But Newfoundland Bankers Hampered by Bad Weather and Bait.

The St. John's, N. F., News, says: "All the bankers from Bruin, Belleoram, Burgeo and Ramea are now fishing on the Rose Blanche and Channel grounds. For several days, owing to backward weather and scarcity of bait, they have done poorly, though fish is in abundance on the grounds. The Grand Bank fleet have not gone fishing yet, though most of the schooners are now ready for the voyage, and will likely be leaving during the present week. The best catch to date of any of the vessels is 300 quintals, taken by Capt. Bond. The last few days have been most favorable, and it is expected that good results have followed."
